CURRENT POSITION

Tendring District Council along with Essex Police are working in partnership around the local priorities for the Council and the Police to keep our communities safe and encourage visitors from across the county to visit our Coastal Town.

Elliot Blenkhorn Shopsafe work in partnership with local authorities to reduce crime in the Town Centre by connecting communities through instant group communication and information sharing apps. Each shop would have a radio in which to communicate with other shops and through the application be able to share pictures, intelligence instantly as well as support their local Town Policing Team with up-to-date information. There is a 24-hour help desk available to support all shops and face to face training is provided. All of this is included in a 12 month contract.

Karen Whybro is a gender equality consultancy and works with businesses and organisations to improve attitudes towards women, their safety, experiences and opportunities through positive cultural change and working practice. They have already demonstrated success in other areas of the County including Chelmsford and they are keen to work together to improve feelings of safety for women and girls in Tendring.

Theatre Inspiring Change – Tick Box Productions are a Multi Award winning theatre company who are passionate about empowering people and communities to make personal and social change. Their productions are a mixture of plays and interactive workshops that tackle discrimination, prejudice and inequality whilst celebrating diversity. They create a safe atmosphere for all students to “walk in the shoes” of the characters to recognise the differences between each other, listen and feel the impact with empathy and passion to enable embedded change.

The Noise Application can support Ability to invite complainants to the application, accept pictures and video recordings and provides on demand free training to use the Noise Application. It also supports linked report requests linking other organisations which supports collaboration working to resolve any issues. This will in turn support our residents who report into the Council noise complaints and allow them to record and produce evidence which will assist our investigation.

Helping Our Community Stay Safe Booklet was issued to (number residents) and proved a fantastic tool in relation to crime prevention, modern slavery, VAWG, Fraud and Scams, Crimestoppers as well as providing a guide to all local council contacts and services. Our Community Safety Team were able to engage with hard to reach communities in which the booklet was used to break down any barriers.

From 2008-2018 Tendring District Council supported the TENBAC scheme before it disbanded which provide support to local businesses around theft and anti-social using the TENBAC Radio. The Council have already worked in partnership with Karen Whybro and Theatre Inspire Change delivering bespoke messages around VAWG and Young Persons Safety so new funding would allow the Council to reach out to support other parts of the community and schools. We currently have no application to aide noise related anti-social behaviour complaints so this initiative would support and benefit our residents. We have previously printed our Community Stay Safe Booklets which have proved beneficial at Community Engagement Events and have provided guidance and support to residents around Crime Prevention and how to Stay Safe. To be in a position to have these booklets again would help raise current awareness and to refresh our current priorities.

The reason for applying for this funding is to support our communities in Clacton and Harwich as well as Frinton and Walton which provide opportunities to prevent crime prevention and vulnerability which are part of our local Council Priorities which link in with the Police Crime Plan and the OPFCC Priorities.
